MODULE 3: International cooperation in ICT research: opportunities for Latin America participants

Objectives:

- Promoting opportunities for Latin America participants in ICT
- Understanding the rules for third country participation
- Discovering specific research areas for international cooperation

Topics Covered

- International cooperation in FP7 and ICT
- LA and Caribbean within International Cooperation Partner Countries
- Recent trends in LA participation in ICT
- Position of LA in third country participants
- Target objectives for international cooperation in ICT Call 4

3.1 International cooperation in FP7

- FP7 is open to participation from any country in the world:
 - Member States - The EU-27;
 - Associated Countries – with science and technology cooperation agreements
 - Candidate Countries – candidates for future accession
 - Third Countries - countries that are not Member States, candidates or associated
- Cooperation with “third countries” is explicitly encouraged in FP7
 - to support European competitiveness in selected fields through strategic partnerships
 - to encourage the best third-country scientists to work in and with Europe
 - to address specific problems, on the basis of mutual interest and mutual benefit
- Participants from International Cooperation Partner Countries (e.g. LA countries) are entitled to funding under the same conditions as EU Member States
- Consortia must have a minimum of 3 participants from Member States or associated countries.

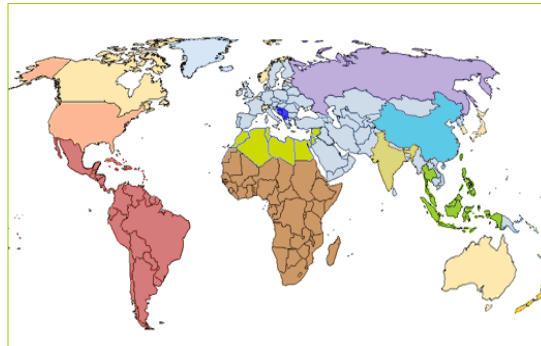

3.2 International cooperation in ICT

- Transnational partnerships are the norm for the ICT projects.
- Participation in ICT open to a wide range of organisations: Universities, research centres, multinational corporations, SMEs, public administrations, funding bodies.
- Objectives of International cooperation in the ICT work programme:
 - To jointly respond to major global technological challenges by developing interoperable solutions and standards.
 - To jointly develop ICT solutions to major global societal challenges.
 - To improve scientific and technological cooperation for mutual benefit.
- Research topics open to international cooperation activities within 7 Challenges and FET
- International cooperation is also addressed through horizontal support actions
 - By providing support to information society policy dialogues
